

Treatment for asthma is like a staircase (see below) and your child's treatment can move up or down a step depending on their asthma symptoms control.

