

Mrs Sadie Clayton

I am a Consultant Nurse for Children's Respiratory Services at The University Hospitals of North Staffordshire.

I am the current clinical lead for Children and Young People Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent ICB.

I have specialist interest in severe asthma, and I am the co-founder and a committee member of the Severe Asthma National Network (SANN).

I am committed to raising the standards of care for children and young people with asthma and sharing best practice across our communities. In my career so far, I have met so many inspirational patients / carers and health professionals passionate about making a difference to asthma care provision for which I am thankful.

By working together we will make a difference, and I feel privileged to be part of a community that has the children and young people's best interest at the heart of what we are aspiring to do.

Confessionally lovely holidays and friendships, mindfulness and nice wine and sunshine give me the energy to remain focused and energised, with the optimism to remain mind and body fit.
